Law Practice:

Deanna is an experienced attorney providing advice and counsel to clients in the areas of: estate and tax planning, probate and trust administration (including tax compliance), guardianship and conservatorship matters, entity formation, governance and general business planning, as well as associated commercial and residential real estate transactions. Her clients range from individuals with modest to high-net worth estates, corporations to family-owned businesses, as well as fiduciaries and beneficiaries.

Creative problem solving is one of the most rewarding parts of Deanna's practice. She collaborates with clients and their advisors to implement solutions tailored to address their specific unique goals and needs. Deanna enjoys getting to know her clients and takes immense pride in being able to assist them through the various stages of their personal and/or business lives. Deanna's compassionate and detailed approach to the practice of law brings her clients piece of mind in what may be emotional and stressful events.

Having worked at the Marion County District Attorney's Office and in a general practice firm prior to joining Cosgrave Vergeer Kester LLP, Deanna has a broad ranging background in a number of practice areas in addition to her current practice, including family law and

Client Comments:

“I would also like to take a moment to say THANK YOU! I appreciate everything you both have done to make sure I had all details worked out. It makes me feel so much more comfortable knowing I had the guidance of two of the best attorneys anywhere!”

“Thank you for everything you have done. This was a difficult situation and you were incredible at helping us navigate the best methods and ways to handle this. If there is ever anything we need in the future you will certainly be the person we come to. Again, thank you for everything you did. Without your guidance and expertise we would not have been able to get this resolved in such a timely and respectful fashion.”
